Introduction of Early Exit or Fall-back Qualifications for an Existing Undergraduate / Postgraduate Programme of Study

At its 1034th meeting held on 09.07.2020, the University Grants Commission, taking into consideration the recommendations made by the UGC Standing Committee on Quality Assurance, decided on the following, in relation to early exit or fall-back qualifications:

1. Both early exit and fall-back qualifications provide pathways for students registered for a programme of study leading to a particular qualification, to leave with a different qualification at a lower SLQF level. Such pathways must be designed so that the lower qualification to be awarded, the volume of work that must be completed for award of this lower qualification, and the Level Descriptors are clearly specified as per the SLQF guidelines and the award of such qualifications has received prior approval from the UGC. Early exit and fall-back qualifications differ in that while students may choose to leave with early exit qualifications before completion of the minimum period of study required for the full qualification. Fall-back qualifications are for students who have completed the minimum period of study required for the full qualification, but are unable to fulfill all the requirements for award of that full qualification. Fall-back qualifications are meant to avoid the unfortunate situation where a student is compelled to leave a programme of study without any qualification despite several years of study and some significant level of achievement. However, if a student is expelled from the University on disciplinary grounds, then such a student may not be eligible for award of an early exit or fall-back qualification.
2. Early exit qualifications may be built into the design of new postgraduate programmes. E.g. a Level 10 MSc programme may have provision for exit with a Level 9 Masters, or a Level 8 Postgraduate Diploma. In designing such exit pathways, the expected programme

- outcomes or graduate competencies, the course structure, and the assessment strategy, including requirements for award of each qualification must be clearly specified.
3. Early exit pathways may be also created within the structure of an existing postgraduate programme, but again, the expected programme outcomes or
 4. Graduate competencies, the course structure, and assessment strategy, including requirements for award of the qualification must be clearly specified.
 5. Fall-back qualifications at SLQF Levels 3 or 4 may be made available to students registered for programmes of study leading to Bachelor's degrees, but who do not fulfill all the requirements for award of the degree. For such fall-back qualifications too, the expected programme outcomes or graduate competencies, the course structure, and the assessment strategy, including requirements for award of each qualification, must be clearly specified.
 6. Fall-back qualifications at SLQF Levels 3, 4 or 5 may be made available to students registered for programmes of study leading to Bachelor's Honours degrees, but who do not fulfill all the requirements for award of the degree. For such fall-back qualifications too, the expected programme outcomes or graduate competencies, the course structure, and the assessment strategy, including requirements for award of each qualification, must be clearly specified.
 7. Early exit pathways are not recommended for undergraduate degree programmes to which students are admitted through the UGC.
 8. A fall-back qualification should be available to any undergraduate student only after completion of the minimum period of study of the programme for which that student has been registered.
 9. A recommendation for award of a fall-back qualification to a student who applies for award of such a qualification, should be made by the relevant Faculty Board, to the Senate of the University, after an exit interview to judge the suitability of the student for award of such qualification.
 10. The effective date of award of an early exit or fall-back qualification should be the 1st day of the month after which the Senate of the University has approved award of the qualification, at the request of the student, and on the recommendation of the relevant Faculty Board.
 11. Provisions for early exit and fall-back qualifications should be included in the University by-laws for the existing programme of study.
 12. All early exit and fall-back qualifications should be approved by the Commission through the submission of an application to the QAC/relevant Standing Committees.
 13. The application form to be used to obtain UGC approval for introduction of early exit or fall back qualifications, for an existing degree programme previously approved by the UGC is shown in Annex 1 of this circular.
 14. The effective date for the early exit or fall back qualifications of a degree programme will be the date of the Commission approval received.

This Circular is effective from 12.03.2021. Please take necessary action accordingly.
